

Online Quiz Chapter 17

World History

Question 1

The Portuguese base of operations in China, granted when they arrived in China, was the territory of

- Shanghai.
- Macao.
- Hong Kong
- Canton
- Xian.

Question 2

The Ming Dynasty

- dismantled the Great Wall as it was no longer needed for the defense of China.
- sent a fleet far into the Indian Ocean.
- under Yongle, had Chinese ships bring back Christian missionaries to China.
- sent a huge army into Japan, which captured and held the city of Edo for one year until a debt owed to the Chinese government was paid.
- saw their fleets reach the Mediterranean Sea.

Question 3

The primary fighting force of Qing China was the

- dyarchy.
- Persian and Uzbek janissary corps
- green standard
- bannermen.
- queues.

Question 4

Government under the Qing Dynasty

- was actually no different than it had been under the Ming.
- gave Europeans preferences over Chinese for civil service positions.
- abandoned all of its Manchu roots.
- although a dyarchy, in reality favored the Chinese over the Manchus.
- saw compromises made in the civil service examination system as positions were increasingly assigned to candidates who purchased their degrees.

Question 5

The first Jesuit missionary to arrive in Japan was

- Ignatius Loyola
- Francis of Assisi
- Peter Beckett
- Francis Xavier
- Matthew Ricci

Question 6

Unemployed samurai warriors were known as the

- yangban
- fudai
- tozama
- eta
- ronin

Question 7

What contributed to the rise of literacy among common people?

- Development of woodblock printing
- Increased value of the "floating world"
- Expansion of education with the rise of mercantile policies
- Christian missionaries spreading the Bible
- Influx of western texts

Question 8

The first European sea-faring nation desiring to trade with China and who arrived in 1514 was

- Britain.
- France.
- Portugal.
- the Netherlands
- Spain.

Question 9

Korea

- was much more heavily urbanized than that of Japan by 1750.
- developed a phonetic alphabet for writing the spoken Korean language in the 1400s.
- developed the most equitable and open civil service system in Asia to avoid having a government bureaucracy drawn from a single class.
- wanted to play a significant and public role in world affairs.
- invaded Japan twice during the seventeenth century.

Question 10

- . Japanese reception to Europeans was more enthusiastic than China, as demonstrated by
 - an alliance against China.
 - daimyo's fascination with firearms.
 - transition to hybridized silver coinage.
 - willingness to allow conversion missions of Dominican friars.
 - bilateral trade agreements with all Europeans.